Proposals shall be properly proposed and seconded and may be accompanied by a preamble which clearly states the reasoning for support of such a resolution. The Council shall have the power to amend and place in a correct format resolutions altering these Rules or the Memorandum and Articles and shall inform the proposer of the revised wording and the reason for this.

The Company Secretary (having consulted the President if the resolution affects the Memorandum and Articles of the Company) shall inform the proposer if the resolution is out of order and the reason therefore.

- b) Agenda
The order of business shall be in accordance with the agenda Appendix C. No business other than that on the agenda shall be taken.
- c) Chairing the meeting
Procedure for appointment of the Chair is laid down in the Articles.
It is the duty of the Chair of the meeting to ensure that the meeting is conducted in accordance with the agenda and that all proposals are properly presented and the correct discussion and voting procedures are followed. The Chair must remain impartial and must ensure the proper rules of debate are observed.
- d) Minutes
Minutes are required to be taken at all general meetings and displayed on the website. The minutes should record the approximate number of members present, apologies, and a summary of reports given. Proposals must be recorded in full with any amendments and the names of the proposers together with the result of the vote on that proposal. A summary of the debate may also be made and a summary of the general matters raised. A copy of the minutes shall be kept at the registered office.
- e) Rules of debate
No resolution or amendment shall be put to the meeting until it has been read out, proposed and seconded unless the proposal is from the Council when proposing and seconding is not required. The Chair shall then ask the members to discuss and vote on the proposal.

All members shall speak to the Chair directly on the proposal and the Chair may request a member to discontinue if this is not adhered to. At general meetings all members shall identify themselves to the Chair before speaking and questions should be relevant to the proposal. The Chair should give every member where practicable an opportunity of speech but each member may address the meeting once on each proposal except when exercising a right of reply or explanation. The Chair may at their absolute discretion impose time limits on each speaker.

The Chair shall impartially allow supporters, opponents and minorities to speak but should maintain order at all times.

No amendment radically altering the proposal may be accepted for debate and alterations should relate to omission and insertion of words only. Amendments are voted on separately and before the vote is taken on the main proposal. Proposals may only be withdrawn after the commencement of the meeting with the approval of the proposer and seconder and the majority of the members present and voting. If a proposal is withdrawn the amendments will automatically be withdrawn.

Any member may move at a meeting that the proposal now be taken and any member may also move that the meeting proceed to the next business. Both motions must be seconded and carried.

f) Voting

Voting shall be by show of hands and in the event of uncertainty a poll will be taken in accordance with the Articles. The Chair of the meeting shall have the casting vote if the votes are equal.

Members may abstain from voting and the number of abstentions will be taken for every vote.

Three independent assessors who are not members of The Guild may be appointed at the discretion of the Company Secretary and President to scrutinise the votes and to give a certified notice of the result.

The result of the poll will be formally declared before the close of the meeting.

There is no provision for proxy or postal votes.
